COOKERY COURSES WORTH THE JOURNEY

Learning to cook can be one of the best ways to get under a country's skin

BEST FOR ITALIAN

Tuscookany, Tuscany, Italy

Famous for its rustic cuisine and rolling countryside, there are few finer places to learn the basics of Italian cooking than Tuscany.

Tuscookany offers a week-long course covering all the essentials, from pizza to antipasti, along with visits to local farms and olive oil makers. You can choose from two locations: Casa Ombuto, a 17th-century villa near the Casentino Valley, and Torre del Tartufo, a 30-acre estate near Arezzo.

DETAILS One-week course with accommodation and meals from £1,970; tuscookany.com »
